March 1 - 4, 2012

Course Description:
Day 1: “Things That Go Bump In The Mouth”
A review of the most common, and significant, exophytic lesions in the oral cavity. Numerous lumps, bumps and warty appearing lesions can have similar appearances and a thorough review with many clinical photos will be presented. This will include clinical presentation, treatment recommendations and follow up care.

Day 2: "The A to Z's of Oral Ulceration"
A review of the most frequently encountered and most significant types of oral ulcers. This will include a discussion of a broad spectrum of lesions from autoimmune diseases to infectious processes to neoplastic lesions and more.
